MESOPOTAMIA AND PALESTINE WILL BE GIVEN UP, SAYS LAW

Part Of His Economy Plan, Says New Premier

NOT CONFIRMED

Lloyd George Opens His Campaign In Scotland

(China Press Service)

London, Oct. 30.—The Daily Mail reports that Bonar Law has declared privately that he intends to evacuate both Mesopotamia and Palestine as the first moves in the wave of economy he has promised the nation.

(Reuter's service)

London, Oct. 28.—Mr. Lloyd George, opening his Scottish campaign at Glasgow today, said that the nation was still waiting for some reputable explanation of the wanton act of sabotage that had destroyed the Coalition. His present and, he hoped, his future friend, Mr. Bonar Law, had failed to show that there had been any difference in the late Government on questions of principle or policy. The Die-Hards were not the only people demanding a change.

If a partisan victory were snatched in this election that would not be the end. The Laborite manifesto, which was an appeal to millions, was a formidable challenge of an alternative Socialist Government. He himself and his friends would do their utmost to avert the Worst evils of a bad blunder.

He trusted that nothing would be done in the election that would make it difficult or even impossible for men of a like mind, who believed in keeping the country steady, from pulling together and preventing the boat capsizing.

"Stick to the middle course and give a wide berth to the abyss on both sides and we shall pull through."

An important thing was that the breach should not be made irreparable. Otherwise dangerous elements would be found marching towards destruction.

"We emerged from the great storm because we co-operated. I was then on the bridge. I am now in the forecastle. But a hurricane is coming from another quarter. Let us not endanger the glorious old ship by quarrels as to what officers should be on the bridge and what uniform they should wear."

London, Oct. 28.—The Conservatives of 31 Constituencies so far have agreed not to oppose the National Liberals. Up to the present 435 Conservative candidates, 399 Labor candidates, 156 National Liberal candidates and 301 Independent Liberal candidates have been adopted.

DR. HAWKS POTT TO GIVE LECTURE TOMORROW NIGHT

Will Speak At Young Men's Hebrew Association

The first of a series of fifteen lectures on a wide range of subjects to be given under the auspices of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, 10A Kiukiang Road, will be heard tomorrow evening, when Dr. F. L. Hawks Pott, president of St. John's University, will speak on the subject "Heredity and Environment."

The lecture will begin at 9:45 p.m. and will be open to the public, all interested being cordially invited to attend. The second lecture scheduled in the series will be given on November 15 by Dr. Darroch, who is to speak on the "Experiences of a Missionary 30 Years ago."

AMUNDSEN "LOST"

(Reuter's Service)

Christiania, Oct. 28.—The Aftenposten states that the hopes of the Norwegian scientists who are in wireless collaboration with Captain Amundsen's ship, the Maud, have not been realised. Only a few messages have been received since October 15 instead of daily as expected.

A Romantic Trail from The Land of The Midnight Sun Through The Heart of Asia, The Fantastic Land of Mongolia, and Mysterious Tibet To Shanghai.

XVII—INTO TIBET

By Larry Lehrbas

Tibet is the roof of the world. Sandwiched in between some of the highest mountain ranges on the map it comprises plateaus that average over 16,000 feet above the sea. Within sight on all sides are mountain chains that rear their heads over 20,000 feet in the clouds, and the valleys themselves are 11,000 and 12,000 feet above Shanghai. And despite the fact that these mountains enwrap an area estimated at 1,000,000 square miles—accurate geographical data on Tibet is still difficult to obtain—it has a population of only about 3,000,000 people, being one of the world's most sparsely populated countries.

The Tibetans, as a race, are much better looking than the Mongolians, although along the Mongolian border and in the regions where the tent-dwelling Tibetans dwell, they have become Mongolised to such an extent that it is very difficult to tell them apart, Serge and his companions in the calvacade discovered. They are chiefly distinguishable from the Mongolians by the fact that on the average they are generally much lighter complexioned. Serge saw a number, scattered here and there along their calvacade route, that might be said to have rosy cheeks. The physical characteristics of the people differ considerably throughout the land although they are all common descendants of Turki-Mongol stock. In the northern mountain and lake region, which Serge and the calvacade entered first, after leaving Anshi, a Chinese city in a neck of China that juts out in the shape of a tongue for some distance between Mongolia and Tibet, the Mongol type prevails. In the interior the type gradually changes until about Lhassa what is known as the true Tibetan type is predominant. Along the edges of the Chinese, Indian and other borders the influence of other races is distinguishable.

SECRET BARGAINING

The adventurers of the horse train received their first touch of Tibetan manners and customs two 'stages' out of Anshi when two of their horses died of unknown causes and it was necessary to buy two others. A Russian speaking Kalmuk, who accompanied the calvacade from the Siberian steppes, did the bargaining for the horsemen and followed the fashion seemingly the vogue in several parts of Mongolia and Tibet described as 'sleeve-bargaining.'

After several opening feelers by both sides the bargainers sat down to salt tea—for the Mongolians and Tibetans of the steppes prefer salt to sugar in their afternoon tea—and bargained without saying a word about the price to be paid by digit pressure on the wrist of the other man. Descriptions of the bargaining lead to the conviction that Mongolia and Tibet were the original home of the wise philosopher who first said "He has something up his sleeve." When the buyer wishes to suggest a price he inserts his hand in the sleeve of seller and by pressing one, two, or more fingers indicates how much he is willing to pay. If the seller fails to make an answering press the buyer feels exactly like a young swain does who has attempted to hold hands or play 'footy-footy' with some sweet young thing and received no connection. Then he drinks another cup of tea and starts all over again.

The calvacade's bargainer at length successfully imitated the secret society grip that was the password of the occasion and bought two ponies for three bricks of tea each and a piece of silver—of a value of about $1 Mex.—and the calvacade began ascending an unnamed pass in the Nanshan mountains that led to the northern plateau of Tibet—a region that covers as great an area as France. The plateau region has no rivers—although Tibet is the birthplace of practically every river of importance that flows into the seas from China, Burma or India—but is dotted with a number of fresh and salt lakes, and hot springs.

SACRED FISH

The lakes vary in size from wee little mud ponds that shrink up or are swallowed by the sun during the hot summer to lakes with circumferences of 100 miles or so. One—Hospa T'so—is perched 17,000 or 18,000 feet above sea level.

The young adventurers were interested in the lakes chiefly as to whether they were fresh water, and could be of use, or salt water, to be avoided. The fresh lakes, of course, provided fish for several delicious courses they had during calvacade banquets, although once they narrowly escaped what might have been a serious affair, for the Tibetans are chiefly notorious because of the adventurers and travelers who have never been heard of again after they had made their acquaintance.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY SERVICE MEN

Service At Cathedral Part Of Program Arranged For November 11

Arrangements for the observance this year of Armistice Day on November 11 are being carried forward by the United Services Association and according to a program tentatively drawn a short service will be held at Holy Trinity Cathedral at 10:45 o'clock in the morning.

A cordial invitation is extended to all members and their families and friends. Admission which will be by tickets to be obtained by application to O. S. Benbow Rowe, the honorary secretary of the United Services Association, in the Glen Line building.

Mr. Rowe states that the south transept of the Cathedral will be reserved exclusively for relatives of those who fell in the Great War.

In the evening a dinner, followed by a concert and dance will be held at the French club in conjunction with the French Association. The dinner is reserved exclusively for men members, but to the concert and dance both friends and ladies of members will be invited.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF ASIA BANK IN PEKING ARRESTED

Henry Werblow Held In Connection With Forgeries

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Oct. 28.—Mr. Henry Werblow, described as Acting Manager of the Peking branch of the Asia Banking Corporation, was arrested today on arrival from China and charged with attempting to defraud banks of $129,000 by means of forged cablegrams.

The arrest of Henry Werblow upon his arrival in New York was expected in local financial and police circles as it was known that he was suspected of being implicated in the robbery of the bank through forged telegrams between Hankow and London.

When he was relieved at Peking, he came to Shanghai and it was reported at the time he was being watched by police. He sailed from Shanghai on board one of the 'President' vessels and his movements were closely watched after his arrival in the United States until his arrest in New York.

No further information that the brief dispatch concerning his arrest has been received in Shanghai as the handling of the entire affair is in the hands of the home office of the banking corporation in New York.

Workmen And Company Stated Cases Previous To Kailan Mining Strike

Text Of Letter Sent By Employes And Of Proclamation Posted By The Administration Are Given

The full text of the communication addressed by the Kailan Mining Administration workers who struck last week, and the text of a proclamation in reply posted by the company is reproduced herewith, as published by the Peking and Tientsin Times in their issue of October 26:

While the strike at the railway workshops was in progress, a letter, of which the following is a translation, was received on October 16, by teh Engineer-in-Chief of the Kailan Mining Administration:

Engineer-in-Chief, Tongshan:

We beg for your sympathy with us and for your permission to increase our wages, giving us equal treatments.

Many of us, the workmen, have served the Administration for more than 30 years, some over 20 years, and so working day and night in the interests of the Administration and for their own livelihood. As prices of things have now risen more than twice their former value, we cannot possibly support our families with our usual wages. The other factories have their fixed regulations regarding the annual increase of the wages. However, some of us have worked for more than ten years but had not a cent of increase. The workmen as well as the staff are rendering services to the Administration, and according to the right principle we should have the same treatments. Your Administration, however, gives us different treatments, oppressing the workmen. Such as the cheap rate coal and the Gratuity Fund will prove this. What is more unfair than this?

When the Administration was first established it was able to give full pay for Sundays, Festival and New Year Holidays, also one month's extra wages by the end of the year. The annual net profit of the Administration then amounted to but over a million dollars, yet things could be carried out according to the usual customs in the Western countries. Now the annual profits amount to millions of dollars, yet there is less sympathy with us than in the past. We have been suffering from various kinds of hardships and difficulties. As it is now so difficult for us to make a living, we have brought up six minimum demands to which we beg you will this day give your permission, when you consider the present state of affairs, not going against the tide.

GIVE DEMANDS

We are anxiously waiting for your reply, and we shall be grateful to you for ever if you will comply with our request.

Our six demands are as follows:

1.—It is requested that wages be increased in three grades.

(a) Below $15.00 30 percent increase.

(b) Above $15.00 20 percent increase.

(c) Above $50.00 10 percent increase.

2.—One month's extra wages be paid at the end of the year, the same as what was done before the Boxer Trouble.

(3) Wages be paid for Sundays and Festival and New Year holidays, the same as what was done before the Boxer Trouble.

4.—Those workmen receiving wages of no less than $12.00 a month should be entitled to cheap coal privilege and Gratuity Fund the same as the Staff.

5.—Those workmen who have worked for more than 25 years for the Administration should be entitled to monthly pension equivalent to their wages.

6.—Those who are wounded because of their work for the Administration should receive full pay, and those who die because of such work should receive a considerate compensation. Such compensation shall equal at least 5 years' wages, and be paid at one time.

We are, Sir,

Respectfully, yours,

All Workmen of K.M.A. at Tongshan, Linsi, Chaokochwang Chinwangtao, and Machiakow.

K.M.A. STATE CASE

On the 20th, the Administration caused to be displayed at all its Mines, a proclamation of which the following is a rough translation:

NOTICE TO ALL WORKMEN

There is at present a certain class of men who, for political reasons and for their own private objects, have come to this place to agitate among you workmen for trouble. This class of men never give you any help in time of need or in time of trouble. They only take the opportunity of a peaceful time to attain their own ends by making use of you.

If you listen to what they say and adopt forcible measures, thinking to get some benefit, you will never get such benefit. You workmen ought to know that your real protectors are the Kailan Mining Administration. The K. M.A. have protected you in time of need and in time of trouble, and have never failed you. For instance, during the late Civil War, you workmen have never received any injury, and you have never lost anything. This is all owing to the protection of the Administration. Besides, at that time, the Administration's coal was heaped mountains high and not able to be sold, yet the Administration kept you working all the time. This was just to enable you to earn your living.

Also, because of the shortage of foodstuffs, the Administration brought grain from Tientsin to help you. You workmen, of course, have not forgotten all

HICKEY FORGERY TRIAL REOPENED IN U. S. COURT

New Testimony Being Offered To Show Accused Was Ignorant Of Offense

Trial of the forgery charges against Eugene Hickey in the United States Court for China was reopened yesterday afternoon for the purpose of admitting new evidence for the defense.

At the preceding hearing that was held last Friday John Nelson, who was arrested on the same charge with Hickey and who pleaded guilty, was the principal witness for the prosecution which was conducted by U. S. District Attorney Leonard G. Hucar, who since has sailed for America. At the first hearing it was disclosed that Nelson had written and signed the checks involved in the forgery and the contention of the prosecution was that Hickey was fully aware of Nelson's criminal intent, a contention that was denied by the defense.

At the reopening of the case yesterday the effort of the defense was to show that before Nelson ever had known Hickey he had in mind criminal operations and a particular forgery. To substantiate this Mr. Niels Linder was called as witness and after telling of meeting Nelson when the latter told various stories of his activities in Shanghai said Nelson had sought to obtain possession of a check book.

At yesterday's hearing Mr. Paul Faison appeared for the defendant. The hearing is being resumed this morning.

NEW ECONOMIC JOURNAL MAKES APPEARANCE HERE

A new commercial journal, dedicated to the purpose of bringing the dealers of Russia—particularly Siberia—and China, has just made its appearance here, the first issue under date of October 28.

The new journal, styled the Russian Economic Review, is published in both Russian and English and should fill a distinct want. It is edited by Gen. J. Th. Riabikoff, late Quartermaster General on the staff of Admiral Koltchak. Mr. H. G. Mende is in charge of the English section.

The first issue of the magazine—which will be brought out weekly—contains, besides editorial and special matter, statistics concerning the economic situation in Russia and market quotations. The tone is optimistic and the editors forsee an early reconstruction period in Russia.

LINER MADISON ARRIVING TODAY WITH U. S. MAILS

Empress Of Canada, Next Boat From America, Is Due In On Friday

Bringing a heavy mail from America—1,223 sacks—in addition to a full passenger list and general cargo, the President Madison of the Admiral Line is due in from Seattle this morning and is to dock at the China Merchants' Central wharf about noon. The vessel is to be dispatched for Hongkong and Manila on Thursday.

The Empress of Canada is to bring the next mail from America and is due at Woosung on Friday. The vessel arrived at Yokohama from Vancouver yesterday. The President Cleveland left San Francisco four days behind the schedule. The liner is due in Shanghai on Friday.

Three big liners are sailing for America this week end. The Empress of Asia is to leave for Vancouver next Saturday. The President Jefferson, on which the next mail for the States will be dispatched from the American Post Office, goes to Seattle, and the Shinyo Maru, to San Francisco, leaving here Sunday.

OPIUM SELLER IS FINED $1,500 BY THE MIXED COURT

D. S. Tinkler Offered $1,000 Bribe By Chinese Druggist

A heavy fine for the Chinese shop proprietor and praise for Detective Sergeant R. M. Tinkler constituted the climax to an opium sale case heard by Assessor Blackburn and the Magistrate in the Mixed Court yesterday.

The case was the upshot of a street robbery, in which a Chinese snatched a parcel containing 38 tins of opium pills, labelled "medicine." The snatcher was arrested and Detective Sergeant Tinkler, with a Chinese detective, started looking for a shop bearing the name corresponding to that on the tins. They found the place at 864 Avenue Edward VII and arrested one Yang Tsz-woo, who was in charge. This man, Sergeant Tinkler testified, approached him and offered him $400, later offering $1,000. The pills were analysed and found to contain over 50 percent of opium.

The accused, on the stand, said that the pills were sent to him by a doctor in Swatow and he was merely agent for them. They were anti-opium pills, for opium addicts who were trying to break the habit. The money he offered the policeman, he said, was not in the nature of a bribe, but as security for his appearance in court.

Assesor Blackburn, in giving judgment, stated that shops had no right to sell pills containing over 10 percent of opium and that this was well known. The Court wished to commend the action of Detective Sergeant Tinkler and would fine the accused $500 for keeping opium for sale and $1,000 for attempting to bribe a police officer. The coolie charged with snatching the pills from the woman was sentenced to three months imprisonment.

London Police Have Big Drug Problem

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 29.—The drug traffic is at present occupying the attention of the London police. Three Chinese opium smokers, residing in Poplar, were today convicted at the Thames Police Court and sentenced to fines ranging from £25 to £3. Three Chinese were also arrested in the West End today. It is alleged that they were in possession of a quantity of cocaine.

EXCITEMENT SHORT LIVED IN ROME, FIGHTS IN OTHER CITIES

King Refuses To Sign Martial Law Proclamation

MESSAGES HERE

Consulate Here Told Trouble Is Solely Political

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Oct. 29.—When Rome awoke yesterday morning the only signs of impending excitement were the cessation of trains, trams and all means of locomotion while the bridges uniting various quarters were closed with barbed wire. Cavalry, artillery and armored cars dominated the strategic points of the city. Troops occupied the Fascisti headquarters.

General Pugliese issued a proclamation forbidding gatherings and processions and also the wearing of uniforms.

The astonishment reached a climax when the proclamation of a state of siege was posted up but this was shortly afterwards rescinded on account of the King's refusal to sign it on the ground that such measures were antiquated and His Majesty was averse to taking any step obliging the soldiers to fire on other subjects. A thousand Fascisti and Nationalisti in characteristic uniform marched in military formation to the Quirinal Palace, where their spokesmen thanked the King for his action. His Majesty replied, expressing appreciation of their demonstration of loyalty.

The Fasciatic headquarters was later returned to its owners amidst frantic enthusiasm. Trams and buses restarted today. The city resumed its normal aspect until this afternoon when bodies of Fascisti came into conflict with Communists, resulting in one person being killed and several wounded.

Telegrams from the Provinces report further seizures of public buildings but no further fighting.

Fascisti Taking Over All Offices

(China Press Service)

Rome, Oct. 29.—The Fascisti are now taking over all power in Italy under a mandate of King Vittorio Emmanuel III who has authorised Mussolini, head of the Fascisti, to form a cabinet. This followed close on two events, the refusal of Signor Salandra to come to the rescue of the Government, and the rapid concentration of the Fascisti troops upon Rome.

The city is quiet as it is recognised that the coming into power of the Facisti probably means a great step forward toward a more stable Italy and a resumption of the many activities that, before the war, were enabling the country to take a high position in foreign trade.

Much stress is laid upon the personnel of the Mussolini cabinet as it is generally expected that a wise allotment of portfolios will stave off any possibility of civil strife. The Fascisti rank and file want a clean sweep, but it is expected that other elements will be given subordinate representation in the government.

Mussolini Willing To Form Cabinet

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Oct. 30.—Signor Mussolini has refused to participate in any Cabinet but he is apparently willing to form one himself, keeping the portfolios of the Interior and of Foreign Affairs in his own hands and distributing the remaining portfolios among the various parties, including the Catholics.

It is expected that when Signor Mussolini is formally entrusted with the formation of a Cabinet, which will possibly be today, there will be no further Fascisti action.

In order to supply the thousands of Fascisti troops camped around Rome the Fascisti leaders have requisitioned all the available motor conveyances, including the buses plying between Rome and the surrounding country.

These vehicles can be seen leaving the city full of sacks of bread, without interference by the police, whose attitude is sympathetic.

Rome, Oct. 29.—Following the refusal of Signor Salandra to form a Ministry, the King has asked the Fascisti leader, Signor Mussolini, to form a Cabinet.

All the newspapers eulogise the King's refusal to sign the martial-law order.

The city showed its normal appearance today. Trams and other vehicles were circulating as usual. There were some disturbances directed against the premises of anti-Fascista newspapers.

REPORTS CONFLICT

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 29.—The news from Italy is somewhat conflicting. The Italian Embassy in Paris announces that the situation in Italy is tranquil.

It is privately reported in Paris that a new Italian Ministry has been formed of the majority Fascisti but, according to the Giornale d'Italia, Signor Salandra has been requested to form a Cabinet and has asked time to consider his reply.

Meanwhile Signor Mussolini, who is at Milan, has issued a proclamation that the Fascisti military command has assumed the direction of affairs. Signor Mussolini has declared his readiness to form a Cabinet if called upon by the King.

The Milan correspondent of the Matin reports that martial law was proclaimed in Milan and all meetings forbidden. All permits to carry arms were cancelled and a number of Fascisti from outside were arrested for illegally carrying arms. Motor traffic was stopped and the trams were running a restricted service. The public services generally were suspended and the shops closed. The city is calm.

The Fascisti have taken possession of the office of the Popolo d'Italia, where they have installed their headquarters and have erected sandbag barricades around the building. They have also taken the Polytechnic and the Bersaglieri barracks. The military have placed machine-guns at strategic points.

Troops and carbinieri are guarding the approaches to the Central Square where all traffic is stopped and Royal Guards and carabinieri are guarding the Via San Marco where the fascisti headquarters are situated.

All troops except those on duty are confined to barracks. The Fascisti claim to have taken possession of several towns.

Rome, Oct. 29.—Up to the present the Fascisti uprising has been almost entirely bloodless successes. The momentum of the movement is attributed to the widespread support they are receiving, including that of the greater part of the army and navy.

The Fascisti claim to control Tuscany and Umbria and are now encircling towns in Basilicata and Calabria.

Disregarding the military order the Fascisti continue to wear uniforms in Rome where they parade the streets and are acclaimed by the populace.

Rome, Oct. 28.—An explanation of the recission of martial law is afforded in the newspapers by a statement that the King refused to sign the decree.

The Cabinet is still sitting. All was quiet here at dusk but the authorities, as a precautionary measure, stopped the trams though other traffic is running. A number of Fascisti made a demonstration before the Quirinal and acclaimed the King.

All is reported quiet in the provinces except for a few cases of Fascisti occupying public offices. There was only bloodshed at Cremona.

Rome, Oct. 28.—It is semi-officially stated that in consequence of the improvement in the situation the Government has rescinded martial law.

The Cabinet after being in permanent session since yesterday evening has issued a statement signed by all the Ministers, declaring its intention steadfastly to maintain public order and uphold free institutions in face of the insurrectionary movements.

Rome, Oct. 29.—Disturbances at Bologna this evening resulted in a conflict between Fascisti and Government forces in which one member of the latter was killed and one wounded.

There were other collisions at San Rufillo, where two members of the Fascisti were killed and at Verona where one Fascisti was killed.

The Fascisti at Genoa set fire to the headquarters of the Railwaymen's Union. There were no incidents in any of the other provinces.

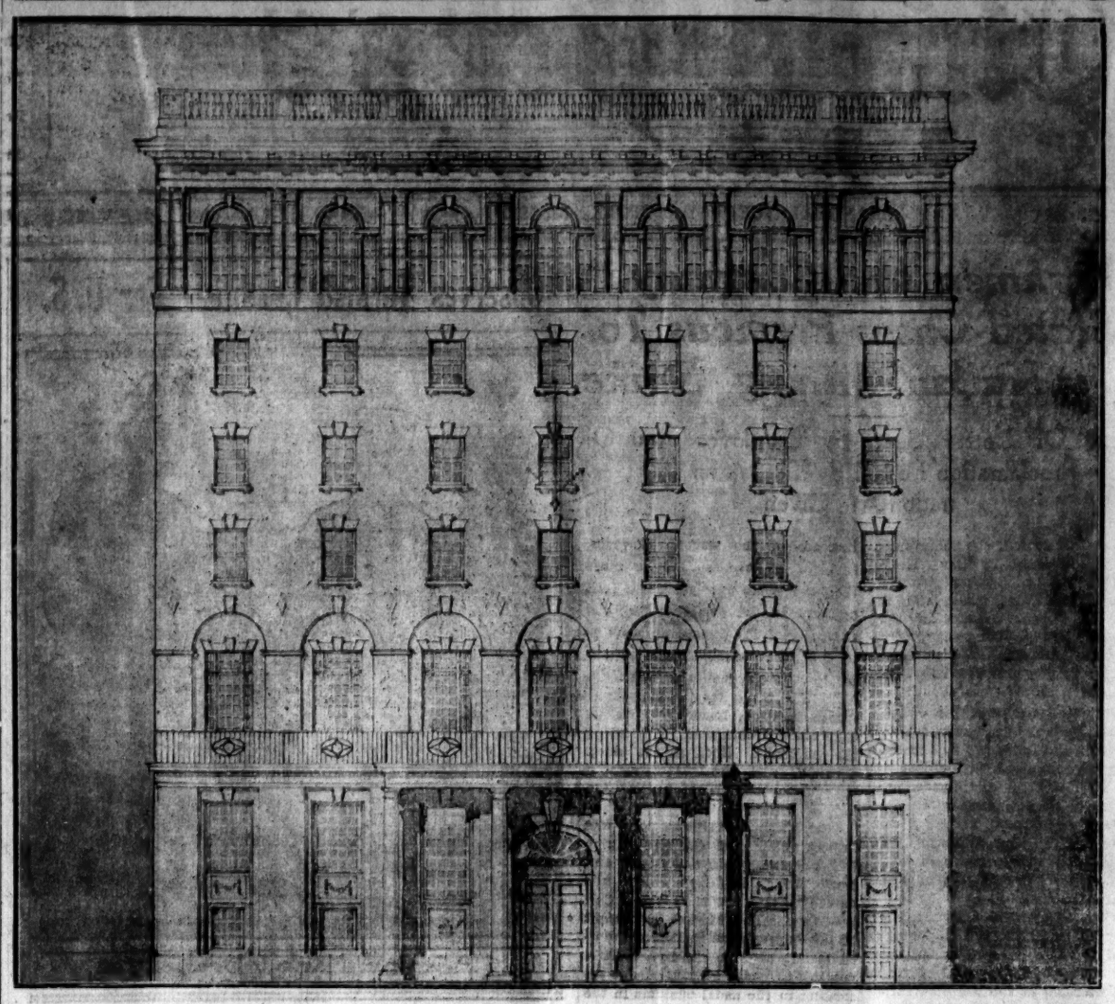
The New American Club



PLANS for the new American Club building that is to be erected in Foochow Road opposite the Municipal building, drawings for which are now on exhibition at the present club building on Nanking Road, call for a structure that will be in accordance with the latest architectural ideas in America.

The drawings on exhibition at the American club are of the winning design that was submitted by Mr. R. A. Curry.

The building will be six stories high, including a messanine floor and basement. In the basement there will be elaborate bath rooms, including a fully equipped Turkish bath. Here also will be a gymnasium, heating plant, coal storage rooms, barber shop, bowling alleys and shower baths.

The ground floor will contain the lobby, reception room, offices, bar and billiard room. On the first floor will be a lounge, card and Mah Jongg rooms and private rooms. Here also will be a newspaper room, reading room and library.

The next three floors will be devoted to sleeping rooms, with a total of sixty rooms, each with a private bath. On the top floor will be large and small dining rooms, one of which will be large enough for dancing, assemblies, etc.

American Ass'n In Foochow Host To Admiral Anderson

The American Association of China (Foochow Branch) gave a reception in honor of Admiral E. A. Anderson, Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Asiatic Fleet, Mrs. Anderson and Lieutenant Commander Frost, at the American Consulate on the afternoon of the seventeenth. All members of the foreign community were invited and a large company assembled. Light refreshments were served. The admiral has left instructions and plans for action in case there should be more trouble before the political situation is settled.

While Admiral Sah, with his little fleet, has taken charge as Civil Governor, Hsu Chun Chih, Wang Yung Chuan and "Little" Hsu have evidently joined forces and are holding the position as Military Governor. Both parties are appointing their men to the various posts and it remains to be seen which, if either, will stick. General Chau Yin Jen, representing the Chihli party, with a large army, is only a few days up the river, and Chen Chiung-ming is coming overland to co-operate with Chau. These armies are coming to the rescue of Ex-Covernor Li Hau-chi, who is a prisoner of war on one of Admiral Sah's boats. More than three hundred wounded soldiers have been cared for by the members of the Red Cross, and according to the universal opinion here, these three hundred are but a few as compared to those who will have to be cared for when the approaching armies appear on the scene. We had thought that Foochow was going to escape the ravage of war, but it now looks as though we were going to have a double portion.

The Chinese Banks and the pawn shops are still closed and the invaders are having a hard time in changing their Cantonese money, consequently looting is the order of the day. Not content with the blight of war, a large fire occured in the third ward on the river front.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefully and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

The Chinese Recreation club's football team has been reorganised this year, with Mr. T. T. Zee, the old basket ball star as manager, and Mr. W. S. Yao as captain. A meeting was held on Sunday at which plans for the season were discussed. The team is considered the best eleven outside of the colleges, and will be remembered for its fine work against the Hongkong team in the Far Eastern Olympics last year. The manager is sending out letters to other elevens, Chinese and foreign, and any team desiring games will confer a favor by addressing the manager, Mr. T. T. Zee, care of Anglo-Chinese Dispensary, Honan Road.

BIGELOW MEDAL

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 29.—Dr. William Williams Keen of Philadelphia, the well-known surgeon, has received the Henry Bigelow Medal for his contributions to the progress of surgery.

How Will Your Widow Support Herself?

HAVE you seriously considered the question of how your wife and family will maintain themselves when you are dead and gone? Is your wife a capable and experienced business woman, fully competent to bear all financial burdens without your assistance? Will she and your children be able to maintain their proper living standards, with all that implies in the way of culture and education, if you are taken away from them prematurely?

YOU cannot dodge this question. Do you want to leave your widow in such a position that she may be forced to marry again, for economic reasons? If not, you must consider a way out, and the one sure way out is an adequate life insurance policy in a sound company.

We shall be glad to give you every assistance, and complete information, upon request.

American Drug Company Sued In Contract Case

Hearing of suit for alleged ach of contract involving ck of an advertising scheme med yesterday in the United tes Court for China before dge C. S. Lobingier in the case Mr. George Chiskin against the nerican Drug Company. In the tion the plaintiff is seeking to cover Tls. 5,000 damages and 75 outlay for expenses.

Mr. Chiskin was represented Mr. J. Em Lemiere as his torney, and the American Drug mpany by W. S. Fleming. It as Mr. Fleming's first appearance in court since his return from the United States.

Mr. Chiskin published a small paper covered booklet entitled "Pro Bono Publico," which contained advertisements of some three score firms. The firms were not required to pay for the insertions of advertisements but instead agreed to give the purchasers of the book a discount ranging from two to twenty percent on various articles purchased. All went well, according to Mr. Chiskin, who was the first witness, until the American Drug company refused to give the discount to several purchasers of the book. The story quickly went the rounds of the Russian colony here, who where the greatest purchasers of "Pro Bono Publico" that the scheme was only a fraud perpetrated by Chiskin to obtain money under false pretenses. Accordingly not only did the sale of the pamphlets cease as a result but Mr. Chiskin was forced to return the money to some 40 purchasers in order to show his good faith in the matter.

In the course of his examination, Mr. Chiskin stated that he had published a similar book in Athens in 1919, which venture was entirely successful since all the firms adhered strictly to their contract. Attorney Lemiere introduced a mass of correspondence as evidence to show that the American Drug Company had broken the contract with Mr. Chiskin.

Mr. Fleming brought out the facts in cross examination that neither had Mr. Chiskin nor his wife ever been refused the discount when he had asked for it. Mr. Chiskin stated that he was not making the demands as a publisher of the pamphlet but merely to protect his reputation, and to make good his agreements with the purchasers of the book. Mr. Fleming then proved that since Mr. Chiskin kept no record of his sales it was impossible for him to tell exactly how much money had been lost through the alleged refusal of discounts.

Others witnesses called by the plaintiff included Mr. Nicholas Leashin who was employed by Mr Chiskin as advertising solicitor, who stated that after the American Drug Company refused to live up to their contracts the sale of the book ceased and that he personally received many insults at the hands of the purchasers.

Mr. E. D. Shendrikoff, publisher of the Russian Echo, who sold the pamphlets in his newspaper office, told of his difficulties when purchasers recounted their treatment at the hands of the American Drug Company. He affirmed that two of his employees Revenco and Ivansoff had been denied the advertised discount, and that he personally investigated the stories and went himself and bought perfumery and was refused any discount, even though he presented his book to the sales girl who took it to the manager for confirmation.

Judge Lobingier adjourned the case until Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. in order to permit the plaintiff to summon additional witnesses.

this. In time of peace, the Administration has established schools for you and has established a Poor Peoples' Home. All such benefits need not be repeated in detail.

WILLING TO HELP

If you adopt riotous measures and make exorbitant and unreasonable demands, the Administration will never agree to them, but in regard to your actual difficulties, the Administration is very willing to help you. At present we know that foodstuff is very dear, and that all other things are very dear in proportion, so the Administration intends to increase the wages of you laborers. Fom the beginning of this month, those who get $30 a month, or less, no matter whether they are laborers of the K.M.A. or laborers engaged by the Contractors are to receive 10 percent increase. For instance, if you earn $20 a month, you will get $2 extra; if you get $25 a month, you will get $2.50 extra.

Now you people are called upon to exercise your own conscience and to think deeply about the matter—whether you are to follow the lead of the bad characters who make the agitation, or whether you will work peacefully and be good workmen. If you will follow them, you take your own consequences. The police will certainly take very stringent measures in regard to such disturbances, and you must not feel sorry when you get the worst of it. If you rely upon this Administration, and work peacefully the Administration promises to give you absolute protection. and no matter what men, they cannot hurt or prevent you. Besides, you will get extra pay.

It was reported that this proclamation had been well received: but on the morning of the 23rd inst., all employes at Tongshan, Chaokochwang, and Linsi mines, and at Chinwangtao, came out on strike at a preconcerted signal. which is evident by the fact that the workmen at Chinwangtao ceased work at the same time as at the Mines. It is noteworthy, however, that the workmen at Machiakow Colliery did not come out on strike; and, at the time of writing, (25th), are still at work.

Additional police from Tientsin have been drafted into the mining area for the protection of those willing to work and for the safeguarding of property. The essential services of the Mines have been secured; and no disorders have so far taken place.

The contractors who supply the labor at Chinwangtao, for the handling of the coal, have accepted the increase offered by the Administration, and their coolies will resume their normal work as soon as the Locomotive Drivers and Transportation Staff return to work. In the meantime, they are being employed on the construction of roads, and such other extraordinary work as can be found for them.

Yak-Tail Trails

which a Tibetan temple mounted guarded the two companions of Serge had an idea they would like to emulate Isaak Walton and have fish for supper. Two—resembling the much maligned carp—were caught before a horrified Tibetan arrived on the scene and informed them they would be killed if they caused any more Tibetan souls to lose their happy reincarnations. The lake, it appeared, was a sacred lake, inhabited by sacred fish—fish whose souls had once upon a time been encased in the shell of nature we call man—high lamas to be precise. Both carp were tossed back into the lake in double-quick time and the fish-pole put back in the packs. As a consequence they were only severely warned by a rather friendly lama from the nearby temple.

Among the Tibetans of the northern borderland tents, somewhat after the Mongolian fashion, are the chief means of habitation. In the region about Lhassa and in the southern river region, however, the villages are composed of one storied stone houses, differing only in minor details from the Chinese stone houses in interior villages.

A TIBETAN FUNERAL

Just before the calvacade arrived in the Burkm Buddha Mountains—where he devils roar continuously—hey stopped in one collectio of tents inhabited by Mongolised Tibetans just in time to witness the funeral service attendant upon one Tibetan's soul being transported into sme other incarnation. The funeral was conducted with a grat deal of pomp and ceremon after the Chinese fashion with burial on a lonely hillside after the lama-priest had peformed the necessary hokus-pcus and decided on the one spt that was suitable.

They learned that he Tibetan being buried was fairly well to do and so the funeal was resplendent in color and weird music. A cruder method is known to exist on the Mongolian and Tibetan steppes, however, when the body is placed in a yak-cart nd driven at a fast pace over the uneven ground until it falls ot. There it rests until it is dvored by the wolves, the swooping vultures, and dogs. Numerous times on their long tek across inner Asia the horsmen saw bleached skeletons ocorating the lonesome plains—ghastly reminders of the terrble cloud that hangs over th country and the inherent barbarianism of the Mongol type.

And all along the way they saw—as they had seenthroughout Mongolia itself—housands of prayer wheels in operation by the priest-ridden people. The prayer wheels, decorated with Tibetan characters, seemed more in place among the Tibetans than they hid among the Mongolians, to whom Tibetan was a foreign language, but the little slips of paper with the prayers to Buddha in flowery language, were at least understandable in the country they were now passing through.

The prayer wheels continually spinning, spinning, spinning told their own story of the subjugation of the Tibetans, once a strong, independent, warrior race of shepherds, as were the Mongolians under the great Khans, by the pontiff-king of Lhassa and his horde of vulture lamas.

SLIGHT OMISSION PROCURES COOLIE EIGHT-YEAR TERM

Jeu Ah-ching, erstwhile ricsha coolie, is evidently in the habit of washing his face with his eyes open, and by reason of that habit, or a single lapse, he was sent to jail yesterday for a period of eight years.

On Sunday morning at about 3 o'clock, a Chinese Police Sergeant and Chinese Constable on duty on North Shanse Road heard an outcry and sped to No. 1507 on that thoroughfare, whence the noise came. There they found Madame Tsei Yih Yih-sz in a hysterical state. She finally made them understand that a robber, his face disguised under a coating of white powder, had threatened her life and had made off with $50 in notes and a diamond ring worth $500 which he had torn from her finger.

The Chinese Sergeant immediately had a look around. He recalled seeing no one leave the house from the Shanse Road side, so he went to the back door. This he saw gave onto an areaway on which only one other doorway abutted. There was a watchman near this door and the Sergeant questioned him. Yes, a coolie had recently returned to the house. The Sergeant asked to see the coolie. He found the man lying in his bed apparently asleep. There was no powder on his face, but over the closed eyelids was a distinct layer of fine white particles. A search of the room revealed $50 in notes hidden in the bed. In another room was found the ring. Confronted with these evidences the coolie confessed, and implicated a female nurse employed in the household of the robbed lady. The nurse, the coolie had complained of the treatment given her by her mistress, had informed the robber when the master would be away from home and had opened the door.

In court yesterday the coolie repeated his confession and was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment and the nurse, who denied his story, was sentenced to jail for one year.

Weddings

ROGERS—STEWART

At St. John's Cathedral in Hongkong on the afternoon of October 23 the wedding took place of Miss Marie Stewart, elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stewart, of Birmingham, and Mr. Reginald Arthur Rogers, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. Houghton Rogers, of Worcester, England, Rev. H. Copley Moyle officiating.

The bride, who was given away by Rev. G. M. Wales, of the English Presbyterian Mission of Amoy, wore a dress of white crepe de chine, tastefully trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of pink roses with white jonquils. She also wore a dainty white veil with bunches of orange blossom.

Mr. N. Gough acted as best man.

CARROLL—HERON

A wedding of especial interest to Central and North-China residents took place at the Grand Hotel last evening when Miss Jessie Elizabeth Heron, sister of Mrs. Esson McDowell Gale of Hankow, China, became the bride of Mr. Charles Joseph Carroll, chief engineer of the Hankow-Szechuan railways of the Hukuang system, says the Japan Advertiser of October 22. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Noyes, acting pastor of the Yokohama Union Church, in the presence of Mr. Max D. Kirjasoff, American consul.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. E. McD. Gale, was gowned in white satin crepe and Spanish lace with bridal veil of tulle and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and orchids and wore diamond and platinum ear rings and a laveliere, the gift of the bridegroom. Miss Heron was attended by her sister, Mrs. Gale, who wore a mauve lace gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. F. B. Lynch of the International Banking Corporation staff, Yokohama was the groomsman.

Following the ceremony a dinner was given for a small party of friends after which the bridal couple left for a tour of Japan and Korea, enroute to Hankow, where they will be at home after November 15.

Armed Robbers Make $1,395 Haul

Three men, two armed with pistols and one with a meat chopper, entered a jewelry shop at 314 Hankow Road about 3:30 o'clock Sunday evening and robbed the owner of $1,395 worth of jewelry. No one was injured

Young Japanese Commits Suicide

Leaving a letter stating that he was suffering from tuberculosis and was tired of life, a young Japanese named K. Uyehara committed suicide at 112 Range Road Sunday by inhaling carbon bisulphide fumes. The victim, who was 27 years of age had previously worked on the staff of the Shanghai Nichi Nichi and later in the offices of the N.Y.K. He aspired to be an artist, it is stated, and led a lonely life.

FINE RACING AT REGATTA; ENGLAND WINS INT'L EIGHT

The large crowd that went to Henli for the second day's meet of the Fall regatta Sunday was well rewarded, as the weather was perfect and the racing spirited. The scrub eights race, with three boats entered, proved an exciting event, the boats being neck and neck all the way to the finish line, where Huxley's crew forged ahead, closely followed by crews led by Atkinson and Krygsman. The time was 4 min. 13 2-5 sec.

In the S. V. C. fours race the American crew finished ahead of the field, the time being 6 min. 12 1-5 sec.

In the Visitor's fours race the crew led by Lancaster finished first in 1 min. 15 sec. J. B. Brown's four was figured to win this event but somebody made the mistake of giving Larry Lehrbas, who is a south paw, a right handed oar. This proved fatal to the crew's chances. Bill Down's boat finished a snappy third.

Barnes and Young, American novices, coxed by Erickson, ran away with the Griffin Pairs in 5 minutes, 55 seconds, and the same pair repeated when tried for style. Miss Clara Brown's boat won the ¼ mile mixed fours in nice fashion.

The Americans in the International trial fours were forced to drop out after three furlongs when Cox broke the axle of the wheel on his slide. When the accident occured the Americans were a length behind England, with Scotland trailing. England won.

The detailed results of the races follow:

Diphtheria—How It May Be Avoided.

Diphtheria is usually contracted when the child has a cold. The cold prepares the child's system for the reception and development of the diphtheria germs. When there are cases of diphtheria in the neighborhood children that have colds should be kept at home and off the street until recovered. Give them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they will not have to remain at home long. It also cleans out the culture beds, which form in a child's throat when it has a cold, and minimizes the risk of con-

Two Stables Are Figured Best In Race Club Lotteries

Day's stable, which includes Shenkoland and Salvation, and Fay and Seth's stable, with Christmas Gift, were figured favorites to win the Champions by bidders in the selling lotteries held Saturday night at the Race Club. Campox's Old Bill was fourth in the running while Silver Streak, or John Peel's stable, was sixth. Morriss' ponies got fourth place.

Crowborough will win the Leger if Saturday's bidding is any criterion, with Colorado, Sunstar and Christmas Card as good bets. Sunstar's gallop on Saturday morning made many admirers for the pony. The Peregrine, Little Hero and Indiana were favored. C. and H. White's stable, with Paddington, looks to be the best of the subscription griffin offerings although Shellim's Peterkins brought more money. Barney Google's Spark Plug brought good money, being figured as the fourth best, Omekrik's Dot and Dash making third place. Comrade and Grey Powder were regarded as likely ponies by the buyers.

Buyers in the lotteries figured the Champions in the following order:

(1) Day's Stable:
Salvation
Shenkoland
Trustland
(2) Fay and Seth:
Christmas Gift
Christmas Card
(3) Morriss's Stable
Maresfield
Lichfield

Recreation Club In Win Over St. Xavier's

Played on the Recs ground Saturday a fairly good game resulting in a win for the home team by two goals to nil.

From the kick off the Xaviers went off with a rush and carried the ball right to the Recs goal but put the ball behind.

From then on till halftime the home team practically pinned the visitors into their own half but found the goalie ready for every emergency. The Xaviers broke away occasionally and looked dangerous but they also failed to improve their opportunities.

The second half proved slightly more even but the Recs scored their first goal through a penalty given for handling. Freddy Ollerdessen took the kick and made no mistake. The second point was notched by Mears, a good long shot. Twice in this half the Xaviers had the ball practically on their opponents goalline but always kicked wide at the crucial moment.

Neither team was at full strength owing to the Police sports and the Recs seized the chance to try out some of their new blood. Shooting boots were sadly needed by both teams. Xavier was very safe at back and was well assisted by Mears.

New York, Oct. 15.—(Delayed). The University of Michigan met a tartar yesterday in Vanderbilt University, the Westerners figuring themselves lucky to hold the Southern eleven to a no-score tie. It was a bitter gridiron battle.

Princeton won from Colgate, 10-0. Bucknell scored on the Navy, Annapolis winning by a score of 14-7. The Army had little trouble beating Alabama Polytechnical Institute, 19-6. Harvard defeated Bowdoin, 15-0.

J. P. DE BERRY WINS CAPTAIN'S CUP IN GOLF COMPETITION

In the final match of the competition for the handsome trophy presented by Captain J. Dewar, of the Shanghai Golf club, Mr. J. F. de Berry proved superior to Mr. H. Crombie, the other finalist, in a thirty-six hole match at Kiangwan on Sunday. Mr. De Berry won by the one sided margin of ten up and nine to play, thus ending the match on the twenty-seventh hole.

Mr. De Berry played the steadier game throughout, and except once in the early part of the match he was never "down" to his opponent.

The winner of the captain's cup well deserves the fine victory he achieved, and the beautiful cup that goes with it. In all his matches his game was distinguished by a steadiness that proved disconcerting to those who opposed him. The victory is creditable also by reason of the fact that in working his way to the finals, and thence to victory, he had to face some fine wielders of driver and brassie and niblick.

Ideal weather and playing conditions prevailed for the final match, the course being in fine shape from first tee to eighteenth green. Medal scores were not kept, as many putts either were not played or were conceded.

At the conclusion of the match Mr. De Berry was heartily congratulated, both by Mr. Crombie and his fellow club members, for his fine achievement.

HEARTY SUPPORT BY MEETING FOR WOMAN'S RIGHTS

Gathering Here Addressed By Prominent Chinese And Foreign Speakers

Hearty support for the inauguration of the woman suffrage movement in China was expressed at the first meeting of the Chinese Woman Suffrage Association of Shanghai held at the Kiangsu Educational Association, West Gate, on Sunday. Among the speakers were Miss Chang Jen-jui, one of the promoters of the Peking Society for Woman Suffrage; Mr. Chang Chi, former speaker of the Senate; Mr. Chang Ping-lin, the noted scholar; Miss Rachel of the National Committee of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. T. C. Chu, wife of the Chief of the Railway Section of the Bureau of Shantung Rehabilitation; Mr. Zau Zoong-hui, editor of the Republican Daily News; Miss Mary Suvoong; Miss Wi Wu Moo-lan, Miss Shen Yi-ping, Miss Huang Shao-lan and Messrs. Chiang Shih-shen, Li Ya-tung and Chen Wan-tao.

More than 150 attended the meeting. Miss Tang Kuo-li presided. Miss Brooks offered the greetings of the American Women's Suffrage Society. Miss Chang Jen-jui reported on the organisation of the Society for Woman suffrage in Peking.

Former Speaker Chang spoke on the subject of woman suffrage and political activities. He recalled the valuable service rendered by women during the revolution of 1911 and pointed out negligence on the part of the Republic in not granting franchise to women. Mr. Chang maintained that this one point was sufficient to prove that China was not yet a Republic and a struggle must be made both men and women alike to secure a genuine democracy.

Chinese Planning Football League

Letters have been circulated by Physical Director T. B. Chang of Y. M. C. A. to seven different teams inviting them to be present at a meeting which is going to be held in the "Y" at 5:30 p.m. today.

The nature of the session is to consider the formation of a Chinese basket ball league this year. Captains and coaches from Shanghai College, St. John's University, Nanyang College, Chinese Recreation Club, "Y" Team and Y. M. C. A. Day School, and Cantonese Baptist Church are expected to be present. Any team in Shanghai who wishes to join the league is cordially invited. The Champion five of the Chinese League will meet the Champions of Foreign League at the end of the season in order to decide the Shanghai title.

Falcone Released On Bail Of $500

H. E. Falcone, former employe of Liggett and Meyers at Canton, who was arrested here a week ago on embezzlement charges while passing through port on the steamer President Grant homebound, was released yesterday on bond of Gold $500.

The information in the case has not yet been filed, but the complaint is based upon charges of C. B. Arthur and these set forth the allegation that the accused obtained the sum of $290.32 on October 17 belonging to the firm of Liggett and Meyers.

The firm of Schuhl and Schonfeld has been retained to assist the prosecution in the case and the firm of Rodger and Haskell is to appear for the defense. A preliminary hearing may be held today.

Sunday's Concert

An enjoyable program was given Sunday afternoon by the Municipal Orchestra at the Town Hall. The concert, which was attended by the Italian Minister, the Italian Consul-General, Admiral and many officers of the Italian men-of-war in port, was opened with the Italian National hymn and the program was made up entirely of music by composers of Italy, the "fatherland of music."

Most charming and expressive was the music of the modern composers, Cilea, Puccini and Sinigaglia, but the Five Senates in old style by Commasini (about 1700) were also beautifully rendered. It might be recommended that next time an ordinary grand piano be used, instead of the instrument in use Sunday.

Mr. Fot played the concerto by Paganini—music full of surprising difficulties but not always interesting—with perfection and drew warm applause from the big audience. Mr. Paci conducted the music of his countrymen with fire and enthusiasm. It may be remembered that Mr. Paci excelled at the last chamber music concert as a first rank pianist.

American School Boys To Play Today

The first of a series of three games to determine the football championship of the Shanghai American School will be played at the Hongkew Park this afternoon.

The rival elevens are fairly even, and feeling is running high. Coach Miller's squad includes only three men of last year's varsity, McDaniel, "Ham" Lawton, and Captain Brewster, but there are a number of new comers who show promise enough to worry the Edmunds men, who have Roy Squires, McGinnis, Kees and Parker in their number. The game Tuesday will be the first of a three-game series to determine the school championship, and it is hoped that the men will have some hard practice before they go into a real fray.

PUBLIC SCHOOL LADS PRODUCE 'JULIUS CAESAR'

Give Good Performance Of Shakespearean Drama; Repeat Tonight

The Amateur Dramatic Club of the Public School for Boys is to be congratulated on so excellent a rendering, for their third production, of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar"—given yesterday afternoon and to be repeated tonight.

Apart altogether from the educational value of a school dramatic club, and the self-possession that comes when "stage-fright" begins to give place to histrionic effort, apart from the fact that the play forms part of this year's Senior and Junior Cambridge Examinations, apart from these secondary considerations of merit and advantage, there is the straight broad fact that the play was excellently managed and produced. This is after all as it ought to be: the management have their cast at their beck and call, and discipline prevails.

The large hall of the school was crowded at yesterday's matinee performance. The curtain rose on a street scene disclosing the pillared majesty that was Rome. We don't pretend to know how these youngsters do these things but the Pyrian marble was there, in columns and monuments, arches and pillars. There was nothing crude about the stage setting, and the boys were obviously well coached.

In Master Levis as "Mark Antony" is seen for a third time a young actor of no mean merits—his voice and gesture are far above the average. The famous speech which all the world has read—"Friends, Romans, Countrymen, . . ." was delivered without a hitch, and with a pathos that was moving without being strained.

Next to Levis, Chaichek as "Cassius" appealed to one as a promising young actor. He has that art of sheer intensity of speech that carries his audience with him. One followed the dark motives of Cassius with a genuine interest.

A. E. Nobiston as "Casca," J. R. Jacob as "Brutus," and Fabian as "Trebonius" afforded excellent entertainment and it is to be honed that the day will come when the last mentioned will figure in a more prominent role. Brockett too as "Metellus Cimber" was deserving of a more attractive part. Mahon and Joseph, as "Calpurnia" and "Portia," did excellently.

It might be pointed out however that the real Caesar had a perfectly bald head, of which incidentally he was somewhat touchy. "Erat Caesar . . . capite calvo, quam calvitii deformitatem aegre ferebat" . . . . . "On what meat doth this our Caesar feed That he hath grown his second crop?"

But Marshall as "Caesar" was good. He should however practice the "Et tu, Brute" scene till he is a bit more perfect.

The orchestra under Mr. J. Pringle gave a recital of music that was very well received. The costumes were designed by Mrs. E. Ford and lent an engaging touch of color to a really fine performance.

The producer and stage manager was Mr. Hore. The decoration of the stage was in the able hands of Mr. R. Ross. Mr. D. Drake was business manager.

A final piece of friendly criticism. The play seemed too good for the school hall, and too big (there were 50 in the cast) for the diminutive stage. Any local theater would have had its accommodation tested for so excellent a production.

The cast follows:

Julius Caesar, C. Marshall.

Octavius Caesar, Marcus Antonius, M. A. Emilius Lepidus, triumvirs after the death of Caesar, N. S. Landau, J. Levis, T. Madar.

Cicero, Publius, Popilius Lena, senators, R. M. Nobiston, A. Gundry, J. H. Jacob.

Marcus Brutus, Cassius, Casca, Trebonius, Decius Brutus, Metellus Cimber, conspirators against Julius Caesar, J. R. Jacob, P. Chalchek, A. E. Nobiston, H. Fabian, S. J. Solomon, W. Brockett, N. Concoff.

Cinna, Flavius, Marullus, N. Concoff, N. S. Landau.

Artemidorous of Cnidos, a teacher of rhetoric, R. M. Nobiston.

A Soothsayer, V. Cooke.

Lucilius, Titinius, Messala, Volumnius, Young Cato, friends to Brutus and Cassius, M. Green, D. J. Raeburn, R. E. Keyserling, H. Harrison, N. P. Karanjia.

Varro, Clitus, Strato, Lucius, servants to Brutus, G. Jennsen, A. Mandelkoff, A. Abeles, C. Bloom.

Pindarus, servant to Cassius, M. Herzberg.

Servant to Antony, S. Judah.

Calpurnia, wife to Caesar, W. Mahon.

Portia, wife to Brutus, B. Joseph.

Citizens: H. H. Tod, Spiegler, C. Jack, H. Arthur, B. Godkin, T. Beesley, Johnson, Symons, I. H. Jacob, H. Petersen.

Soldiers: Senichenko, Karanjia ma, Pfankuchen, Harrison, Jesu, C. Moses, Turner, A. Mandelkoff, Subbotovsky, Berents, Carlson.

ENGINEERS PAY VISIT TO PLANTS OF MUNICIPALITY

Concrete Pipe Works And Sewage Disposal Stations Inspected

Saturday afternoon a representative gathering of members of the Engineering Society of China availed themselves of the courteous invitation of their President, Mr. C. Harpur, Commissioner of the Shanghai Municipal Public Works Department, to visit the Municipal Concrete Pipe Works at Fearon Road and also the Sewage Disposal Works located adjacent to the Rifle Range.

Perfect weather favored the inspection, which commenced at the Concrete Pipe Works, where the process of testing the components of the concrete utilised in manufacture was demonstrated, actual tests being made upon samples of cement to ascertain their strength. The manufacture of pipes by machinery was then explained in detail and this was followed by an inspection of the manufacture of many and various concrete articles ranging from roof tiles weighing but a few ounces to huge bridge beams weighing as many tons. The party then proceeded to the Sewage Disposal Works where the remainder of an exceedingly interesting and instructive afternoon was profitably spent.

The working of a relatively small experimental plant was first explained, the actual operation of the plant being watched in detail. A move was then made to the main disposal plant now in course of construction and designed to handle the sewage from the extensive system now being installed in the Central District. The aeration tanks with their interesting devices for the introduction and diffusion of air were explained, as also were the sludge tanks with their arrangement for the retention of the solids and the passing over of the clear effluent.

The compressor house, containing the pumps required for the compression of air, then came under notice and opportunity was also provided for examination of the stereophagus pumps intended for installation in the various pumping stations now being constructed upon the line of the main sewers. The design of these pumps is particularly interesting inasmuch as their duty includes the breaking up of any solid matter passing through and, for the performance of this function, they are provided with blades of special design which run in close proximity to a special fixed cutting bar.

Keen interest was evinced in the lucid explanations given by Mr. Harpur and other members of the Public Works Department staff assisting him. At the close of the inspection refreshments were served, during the course of which Mr. I. Tuxford proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Harpur in appreciation of the facilities afforded for seeing a portion of the Public Works Department's undertakings and the methods adopted.

Mr. Harpur, in replying expressed pleasure at the numbers present and the interest displayed and said, furthermore, that he would at all times be pleased to arrange further similar visits and do all within his power to enable members of the Society to follow the activities of the Public Works Department.

Registration of American Citizens

The attention of all American citizens residing in the Shanghai Consular District is invited to the fact that a Register of American citizens is kept in this Consulate-General. All who have not registered, or who have not re-registered within the last twelve months, are hereby requested to do so. The advisability of such action is obvious, especially for such persons as may require emergency passports or Consular protection.

Applicants for initial registration should bring with them all available documentary evidence of American citizenship including any passport in their possession; and should be accompanied by an identifying witness.

Under a statute in effect September 22, 1922, whereby alien women who marry Americans do not acquire American citizenship, it is now necessary to present evidence of the wife's citizenship in connection with all applications, where marriage has taken place subsequent to that date.

Persons who have once registered and have received notice of the approval of their registrations, need no further evidence when applying for re-registration. Yearly request, in person or by letter, with notice of any change in business or family status, is sufficient to effect the re-registration.

Registered Americans are urged to keep this Consulate-General informed of their correct business address, in order to insure that they will receive the notices to re-register, which this office sends out shortly before the expiration of their registrations.

EDWIN S. CUNNINGHAM,
American Consul-General.

Missionary Body Elects New Officers

The opening meeting of the Peking Missionary Association was held Wednesday, October 25, at the Auditorium of the Peking Union Medical College. The speaker was Dr. G. Sherwood Eddy, who gave a very thrilling message and challenge to the Christian Church to meet social and industrial problems.

The result of the ballot for the officers of the Missionary Association was the election of the following:

President, J. S. Burgess.
Vice-President, Mrs. Hobart.
Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Henry Fenn.
Executive Committee.
(The officers named above ex-officio), and Adj. H. Beckett, Dr. H. S. Vincent, Miss Jean Dickinson, Rev. J. C. Keyte.

Easier For Chinese To Enter America

(China Press Service)

The Mexican Consulate at New York will re-open on Monday.

Japanese Navy Men Object To Slashes

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 29.—The Finance Department has reduced the Navy appropriation in the forthcoming budget by Y. 30,000,000 making a total reduction of over Y.100,000,000.

The Navy Department protesting says that its requirements are actually Y. 400,000,000 but with a view to retrenchment it had asked for only Y. 317,000,000, which was the absolute minimum.

The New York price declined to 67⅛ cents and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 446.

The only changes in our official quotations here today were a drop in the Yen rate to 65¾ and in the Franc rate to 1045.

Our market was very quiet throughout the morning but steady, business in Sterling being done at 3-3⅞ for all deliveries to China New Year, and in Gold Dollars at 73⅛ October-November and 73¼ for forward delivery.

There were at all times sellers at these rates with buyers 1-16d. and ⅛ point higher.

In the afternoon the market eased off slightly and at the close there were no sellers of Sterling at better than 3-3⅛ for any delivery and of Gold Dollars at 74⅝, with buyers at 3-3⅞ and 74¼ respectively.

There were sellers of Yen at 65¼ for November and 65⅞ for December, with buyers at ⅛ point below these rates.

Banks were quoting 3-4⅝ for Sterling bills, 75¾ for Gold Dollar bills and 1085 for Franc bills.

India bought a small amount of silver in London on Saturday for forward delivery and the market is reported as steady.

New York report their market as quiet and steady.

Davis, Secretary Of Labor, Opposed To Debt Cancellation

(China Press Service)

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 29.—Secretary of Labor Davis, speaking here today, asserted vigorously that there will be no cancellation of the $11,000,000,000 debt owed to the United States by the Allies. He declared that President Harding is unalterably opposed and is determined that the United States shall be repaid.

Secretary Davis said that so long as the nations of Europe are able to spend millions in gold and thousands of men in war, there is little reason for America to forgive them their debts.

New York, Oct. 30.—Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, in a speech here today suggested that another conference be called at Washington for a full and frank discussion of all unsettled financial, commercial industrial questions which the United States was interested.

Judge Gary said the cancellation of the war debts would violate the principles of justice and rules of propriety.

Soviets Now Ask Closing Of Straits To Naval Vessels

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 29.—The first interview granted by M. Lenin since his illness is published by the Observer, from its Moscow correspondent, who says that M. Lenin appeared to be full of life and health. M. Lenin declared that the Soviet aimed at friendship both with England and France. If Russia and the federated States were not allowed to participate in the Near East Conference, it would spoil the possibility of the peaceful development of Europe. The limitation of Russian participation to the question of the Straits would inevitably lead to economic friction, which might hit France and England in the very near future. The Russian program included satisfaction for the national aspirations of Turkey, closing of the Straits to all armed ships in peace as well as in war and full freedom for commercial shipping. The Soviet was opposed to the League of Nations controlling the Straits.

Terrific Blast In Holland Arranged To Test Weather

(Reuter's Service)

Amsterdam, Oct. 29.—The explosion of a quantity of perchlorate of ammonium arranged at Oldebroeke yesterday in connection with the investigation of the propagation of sound and its relation to meteorological conditions of the upper atmosphere occurred under very favorable conditions. The slight frost and no strong wind.

Five thousand kilograms of ammonium perchlorate were piled in a crater three metres deep and exploded by means of an electric wire. A column of fire and smoke shot up a great height and there was a noise like a thunderclap, which lasted several minutes.

Not a plant or tree was left standing in an area of 150 metres round the crater, which is now nine metres deep.

Reuter's Paris correspondent states that thousands of people were on the qui vive yesterday afternoon for the Oldebroeke explosion but nothing was heard, even the most delicate instruments not being affected.

Germans See Signs Of Reconciliation

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Berlin newspapers publish the text of an agreement recently signed between the Committee of Action for the Devastated Areas and the German Socialist Association for Reconstruction.

Commenting on this agreement, Vorwaerts sees in it the first manifestation of a true understanding between the two nations and appeals for the moral support of the German proletariat.

The Journal asks that all those who really wish for a political and economic understanding with France to collaborate in the work of reconstruction of the devastated areas.

American Policy In The Near East

(New York World)

SECRETARY Hughes's statement on the Near East will do some good. Stripped of the diplomatic coverings, the statement serves notice on Paris and Rome that on the main question of the straits the United States will not approve a settlement which gives the Turks strategic control of the Dardanelles. It is worth while to have this officially on record, because it undoubtedly represents the ripe judgment of the American people.

Without in any way minimising the value of Mr. Hughes's moral intervention in the Near East, it must be said that Mr. Hughes's whole interview is a sad commentary of the weakness of American foreign policy.

"It was made plain in both White House and State Department circles"—that is to say, Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes both said—that it was "imperative" that American ships shall not be restricted in their movements between the Mediterranean and Black Seas. Also, the United States has various rights and interests in Turkey which it is "determined" shall be respected.

For these "imperative" things about which we are "determined" what do we do? We issue a statement that we are "gratified to observe" that the Allies seem about to do what we desire.

Will we help them in any way to do them? Not beyond expressing our gratification at observing them do these things, if and when they do them, if at all. And why can't we do more than be gratified at observing? Three reasons are given: First, though the control of the straits is a political question, we cannot participate in European politics; second, in order to achieve the freedom of the straits it may be necessary to call in the League of Nations, and we are not on speaking terms with the League; third, to settle the question it may be necessary to consult Russia, and we are not on speaking terms with Russia.

With all these taboos, sacred cows and bogy-men around, what can a poor little rich Nation of only 110,000,000 people do except gratefully "observe" everything that other nations do to protect the Christian minorities and to insure that freedom of the straits which it regards as "imperative?"

John D.'s First Job

John D. Rockefeller ran up the flag at Pocantico Hills in the latter part of September in honor of the day he landed his first job in Cleveland sixty-seven years before.

Recalling that time, Mr. Rockefeller told of seeking work for six weeks of a panic summer. "I wasn't discouraged," he explained. "I was already at work looking for work." Naturally when he had found work he valued it. In those days the boy just out of school did not "accept a position." He looked for a job; when he got it he worked it for all it was worth and stuck to it, usually, until something better turned up or was turned up by his own intelligence and energy.

That was what happened to Mr. Rockefeller. He does not now, looking back, celebrate his first strike, or even his first raise in pay, proper enough subject for pride at this time. What he remembers is the first opportunity an employer gave him to show what he could do. He stayed with that employer until he went into business for himself. The time was brief, only three years and a half but it was long enough for some workers nowadays to hold half a dozen jobs.

Even in 1855 not all boys in Cleveland were budding Rockefellers, any more than now. It was not desirable that they should be. But probably most of those who went at their work with equal singleness of purpose and a fair share of intelligence got along pretty well, whether in business or in a learned profession. A first job is a first opportunity.

The Striker's Wife

BY S. E. KISER

"You've shown your courage, now, two months and more;
You're looking thinner than you did before;
You don't appear to have the snap you had;
It seems to me that things are going bad;
I try my best to keep from feeling blue,
But what's the use ignoring what is true?

"The principle? Oh, yes, I know that's fine;
It hasn't helped your temper, though, nor mine,
And even if you get a raise, I fear
Those lines around your eyes won't disappear;
Two idle months, and more, forever gone,
And what about the pay you might have drawn?

"You say there's much that I don't understand;
I know there is. The little home we planned;
You haven't mentioned that at all of late;
The men with bills don't seem to want to wait;
I tell them how it is; they look at me
With pity I've begun to hate to see.

"Why couldn't they let well enough alone?
It always happens so—they might have known.
Three years ago, you know, it was the same;
We'd just got started new! It seems a shame
That all we worked so hard to save is lost;
I wish the bosses had to pay the cost.

"Don't think that I am weakening—I'm not!
You're right, I guess; the battle must be fought;
But 'round your eyes the lines have grown so deep,
And lately you've been mumbling in your sleep;
The days we have are all such gloomy days,
And all the time I wonder if it pays."

William J. Bryan's Plan For Settlement Of Europe's Debts

(An Interview With the Former Secretary of State by P. W. Wilson, Former Member of Parliament)

In view of the certainty that the United States will be compelled by circumstances to arrive at some arrangement with Europe over the Allied indebtedness—this at no distant date—I have had a lengthy conversation on this whole subject with William Jennings Bryan, who has arrived at a policy, both interesting, challenging and constructive, which he is explaining with his formidable eloquence to millions of American citizens attending his crowded lectures.

Controversy is to Mr. Bryan the breath of life and it is by no means certain that his conclusions will be received with universal assent, but it must be remembered that in three notable instances he helped to persuade this Nation to his own way of thinking, even to the extent of obtaining amendments to the Constitution. The advocate of an income tax, of women's suffrage and of Prohibition is assuredly an advocate of public causes with whom opponents must seriously reckon. Abroad Mr. Bryan's name is a household word as Democratic candidate, as President Wilson's Secretary of State and as a sincere reformer and idealist.

The first time I heard him was sixteen years ago, when he addressed the Parliamentary delegates of the world under the historic roof of Westminster Hall in London.

"You are an Englishman," said he in our latest talk, "and I must tell you frankly that I am against the United States cancelling the European debts, except on certain definite terms. If we cancel those debts unconditionally, look what will happen. The fact that we cancel will to some extent rehabilitate the credit of European nations. How will they use that credit? I very much fear that in their present mood they will devote what is in effect our money to building up their armies again and preparing for new wars. I am opposed to rendering them any such assistance."

"What, Mr. Bryan, have you to say to Mr. Vanderlip's plan of America asking Europe to pay and then investing the payments in Europe for her reconstruction?"

"I am sceptical over his scheme. Surely the case with many European countries is that they do not want to raise such money, whether for the benefit of the United States or for their own benefit. They prefer to raise no money at all."

"Then you would insist upon Europe meeting her obligations to the United States."

"No, I would offer Europe an alternative. I agree with Senator Borah when he says that there should be no cancellation of European debts until Europe disarms. I have written to him and said so. But I go further. Senator Borah's statement, as I understand it, is negative—no cancellation without disarmament. I would add to this a positive statement. I would also say to Europe, 'If you disarm we will cancel.' I would make the promise."

"Suppose Europe refuses?"

"Then her debt to us continues," he replied. "Even though much of it may never be paid?"

Mr. Bryan assented, and it is perhaps worth while here to remark that national debts on which interest and sinking fund have been suspended are by no means so uncommon as sometimes we assume. Obvious instances are Russia and Austria. Even in France, at the Revolution, two-thirds of the public debt was in effect repudiated, and in Turkey—to say nothing of Latin American republics—such debt has been held for many years in abeyance, the interest on the debt being postponed until a more convenient season—but without actual cancellation.

"How," I asked Mr. Bryan, "would you communicate to Europe this readiness on the part of the United States to cancel the debts provided that Europe disarms?"

"I would send to Europe a commission of three persons. The first would represent the Executive at Washington"—presumably such a statesman as Mr. Hughes, Mr. Hoover or Mr. Mellon—"the second would be a Senator, and the third a member of the House of Representatives. On this commission, therefore, the President and Congress would be fully represented."

"Do you think that Americans are ready to make such a sacrifice of obligations due to them? Are they not opposed to cancellation on any terms?"

"Much of the money due to the United States will never be paid. Besides, what is our greatest interest? It is a world at peace. It was to secure a world at peace that we fought the late war. To obtain peace by means of war we were ready to spend $25,000,000,000. Why should we not be ready to win peace without war by forgiving $11,000,000,000? It would be $11,000,000,000 well invested. It could not be better invested."

"Might not Europe accept your cancellation of the debt and then go on arming just the same?"

"That would be a possible danger and I would therefore apply safeguards. For instance, the plan of cancellation might be spread over a period of twenty years—5 per cent of the loans being written off annually and on condition that disarmament is carried out. This would establish a period for the operation which would guarantee a sincere fulfilment of the agreed stipulations."

Mr. Bryan thus proposes that an American commission shall go to Europe with full powers to release the countries there of their financial obligations to the United States provided that for a period of twenty years they effectively disarm. As knowing Europe I shall be asked the question how such a commission would be received.

In the first place, it must not be forgotten that at Geneva the League of Nations is considering the very objective of disarmament which Mr. Bryan has so deeply at heart. Many Europeans, and especially British Liberals, will be inclined to put the question why the United States should not approach Europe by joining the League, where her attitude to interallied debt could be conveniently explained. For reasons associated with the internal politics of this country Mr. Bryan does not appear to refer to the League of Nations in his program, but Europeans, who are notoriously ill-acquainted with the party game as played at Washington, will be, perhaps, a little mystified by this omission. This comment is not, of course, a final or conclusive criticism. It goes without saying that Europe would be glad to listen to the United States, whether through the League or otherwise.

In the next place, the proposals suggest, perhaps, at first sight that Europe is united over disarmament. The truth is, of course that Europe is acutely divided on the subject. As a delegate for South Africa, Lord Robert Cecil is at this moment pressing for the reforms desired by Mr. Bryan, and he is supported by Italy. But it is idle to pretend that he is backed by France, while some of the largest armies, proportionate to the population, are in the smaller countries of Eastern Europe, where the alliance between Germany and Russia has aroused misgivings. Some of these countries—Poland, for instance—are not included among the debtors of the United States and would not be directly affected by cancellation. This, again, is a criticism to detail rather than an objection on principle. As to that principle, Great Britain undoubtedly supports the views expressed by Mr. Bryan. While Britain is a debtor to the United States she is a creditor of the rest of Europe, and what the Balfour note indicated was that under no circumstances would Britain attempt to collect from Europe a larger sum than she has to pay the United States. But many authorities in Britain, including high banking authorities, would go much further than this and would cancel European debts due to Britain, irrespective of the question whether Britain pays the United States. Viscount Grey's words are almost an

Good Health is your most valuable asset—its preservation should, therefore, receive your most careful consideration. An important point which should always be borne in mind is the fact that a great many forms of ill-health can be traced, directly or indirectly, to disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is wise, therefore, to keep these organs in healthy activity. When they show any signs of derangement let that reliable medicine, Beecham's Pills, be taken at once. Always deal with digestive ailments in time. They are far-reaching in their possibilities of mischief if neglected, as they too often are. William J. Bryan's Plan For Settlement Of Europe's Debts exact parallel of the language used to me by Mr. Bryan. He said:

"The British taxpayer, the British workman, the whole country, would gain far more, financially and economically and by a general settlement of the question of reparations and interallied debts leading to a recovery in Europe than they will by the preservation of their paper right to £900,000,000"—the sum recovered by Britain, equal to $4,500,000,000, which would be her payment to the United States.

Viscount Grey, like Mr. Bryan, also insists that cancellation by Britain shall be conditional upon a program of peace in Europe and is worth while as an investment in peace. His conditions would be four—namely:

(1) German reparations must be reduced to a manageable and practicable amount.

(2) There must be moratorium of adequate duration for the payment of reparations.

(3) All that is possible must be done to put Germany on her feet.

(4) Provided that Germany fulfils her treaty obligations, she must be admitted to the League of Nations.

These four conditions would be calculated to reduce the causes of war, while Mr. Bryan's condition—disarmament—would remove the weapons of war.

Neither Mr. Bryan nor Viscount Grey, are, at the moment, in office. The men who must take the first step, if it is to be taken at all, are President Harding and Secretary Hughes. The official position of the United States in reference to European debts should thus be clearly understood. She has given the world notice that every debtor nation must be dealt with separately. With France she abruptly terminated by the recall to Paris of the French delegate, M. Jean Parmentier, who had reported to his Government the desire of the United States Administration for a date at which payments by France would begin. A similar conference at Washington is to take place between the United States and Britain, which country has begun payments in gold as service of her loans. It has been intimated by the American Treasury that the United States expects Britain to fund her debt and meet the obligation, but that if this be done the United States will join with Britain, as associated creditors of France, in order to press for payment from that country. Such pressure on France by the United States and Britain would of course open up a discussion of the German reparations due and indeed overdue to France, and this discussion would uncover the entire European situation. Italy, as debtor, would be involved, and therefore I make bold to submit that the real choice before the United States is larger and more far-reaching than the proposals, however important, either of Mr. Bryan or of Viscount Grey. The United States will find in the not distant future that she must do one of two things. Either she must forget about what Europe owes her, except possibly the British debt, which Britain is willing to pay whatever happens, or she must summon a second international conference to meet at Washington. Such a conference would deal with Europe as the first conference dealt with Asia. In both cases policy and disarmament would be linked together. In both cases the conference would open with Secretary Hughes laying his cards, face upward, on the table and challenging a frank discussion of them. In both cases the New World would have been called in to restore the balance—even the mental balance—of the Old World. It would seem to be obvious that American delegates visiting Europe and breathing the air of Europe could not exert the same influence as would be exerted by the American Government and Nation on European delegates visiting the United States and breathing the air of the United States. If the Paris Conferecce had been held at Washington human history might have been written in very different terms.

In the interests, then, of the aims which Mr. Bryan is advancing I venture to submit, with all respect, that the venue of the great conclave which he suggests should be fixed on the more democratic shore of the Atlantic Ocean.

Family With A Plan

BY LORETTO C. LYNCH

It was refreshing the other day to learn some of the details as to how a family of small means got the most out of the father's salary by systematically planning.

The girl, about thirteen, told me that they left the city as soon as school closed and arranged to rent a housekeeping tent for ten weeks. This cost fifty dollars and was pitched at a city supervised beach right on the ocean. The father commuted to work every day.

The two boys of the family ran errands for neighbors, and the older boy helped a vegetable dealer on Saturday afternoons serve his customers in return for a large basket of fresh vegetables. The girl made as much as a dollar a day taking kiddies in bathing. She was very attentive and had a motherly concern for the little ones, at the same time enjoying the water herself.

Whatever money the children earned went into small banks, and this was added to their little Christmas fund, which, I understand, each member of the family kept.

The mother was a past master at home dressmaking and told me she could not sew a stitch when she married, but had gone to a free evening school before her little family came along, and learned to sew. She watched the shops for bargains in remnants and could make excellent school clothes, even for her boys, at a trifling cost.

The father worked hard at physical labor, but no matter how busy the little family were sleeping during the day, someone always had Dad's bathing suit ready when he came home, and he tumbled in the cool waves for half an hour before eating the evening meal. This gave the mother a chance to prepare it and get up the table.

The mother, realising that her husband was a willing provider but had NOT great ability, simply made the best of the situation. She studied cooking. She could make a tasty stew out of a cheap cut of meat. She KNEW how to cook vegetables properly. She knew what kinds of foods made for health.

This mother was successful. Her children were the picture of health. She did not pose. She did not try to appear prosperous. She just made the most out of every dollar her husband earned. And she had huge returns in health, happiness and contentment. But the secret of it all was that she had a PLAN in mind.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better."
JOHN J. LEPPA, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."
A. F. PEELER, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., New York City.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm."
EDWARD PARRISH, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."
J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Sze To Return To U. S. After Several Months In China

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 27.—It is stated officially that Mr. Alfred Sze's request for permission to return to China is merely the reiteration of a former application, made at the conclusion of the Washington Conference when he and Dr. Wellington Koo both requested leave to visit Peking.

Mr. Sze was then instructed to remain at Washington until certain affairs had been cleared up. His application has now been granted. He will remain in China for several months and will then return to Washington.

With regard to the post of Minister in London there appears to be some doubt as to whether a vacancy really exists. Dr. Koo is still nominally Minister to Great Britain, but according to the ruling of Mr. Tung Kang an official cannot hold two posts in the Chinese Service.

This view has apparently been adopted by the Government, which has been considering the appointment of a new Minister but has met with difficulties in selecting a suitable official who would meet with the approval of the British Government.

It is announced now, however, that an appointment will be made shortly.

Peking Planning Match Monopoly

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Oct. 26.—The report carried by this Service several days ago to the effect that the suggestion had been made for the establishment of a monopoly of the match industry by the Chinese Government is confirmed.

It is understood that it came from a person outside of the Ministry of Finance and is now in the hands of the Minister for consideration.

U. S. Troops To Quit Rhine December 1

(China Press Service)

Washington, Oct. 29.—The withdrawal of the American Army on the Rhine will start on December first, it was officially announced yesterday. The Government announces that the withdrawal is not caused by foreign political motives, its elementary reason being a desire to reduce the actual strength of the United States Army.

STUDENTS COMBINE

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Oct. 26.—A group of Mohammedan students in the various educational institutions in Peking have gotten together with the idea of forming a Mohammedan Students' Association. Thus far about 150 have signified their willingness to join and a general meeting will be held as soon as the plans have gone far enough.

The purpose of the Association is announced as drawing together those of the Mohammedan faith and uniting them for the good of their religious ideals.

WOMEN CANDIDATES

(China Press Service)

London, Oct. 29.—Thirty women candidates have been nominated for the British Parliament to date.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain, in a speech at Birmingham, declared he will remain, as heretofore, a loyal adherent to the Coalition.

DUCA IS DELEGATE

(Reuter's Service)

Bukharest, Oct. 29.—The Foreign Minister, M. Duca, will represent Rumania at the Near East Conference.

Hardwick Beaten In Senate Fight

(China Press Service)

Atlanta, Oct. 27.—Complete returns from the Georgia primary elections show that Governor T. W. Harwick was defeated for the nomination for the United States Senate to succeed the late Senator Tom Watson. Mr. Walter F. George was nominated by an overwhelming majority.

As Georgia is a certain Democratic state Mr. George will succeed Mrs. Fenton as United States Senator from Georgia. Mrs. Fenton was the first woman senator in the United States. She was named by Governor Hardwick to succeed Senator Watson although the election occurs before Congress reconvenes, so she will never sit in the Senate.

Britain To Send New Envoy Jan. 1

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 26.—It was learned at the British Legation this morning that the new British Minister to China, Sir Ronald Macleay, will not leave London before the first of December and so is not expected to reach Peking until the middle of January or later.

Mr. R. R. Clive, C.M.G., will act as Charge d'Affaires in the interval.

VENIZELOS TO ATTEND

(Reuter's Service)

Athens, Oct. 28.—M. Venizelos, assisted by M. Romanos, Minister in Paris and M. Caclamanos, Minister in London, will represent Greece at the Lausanne Conference. General Mazarakis will attend as military expert.

GERMAN COAL PRICES

(China Press Service)

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Another burden has been laid on Germany's hopes for a speedy economic stabilisation. Because of the increase in wages granted to German coal miners, the price of coal has been raised three thousand marks a ton.

The Berlin Journal of Commerce, in its issue of yesterday, prints a bitter attack on the French control proposals.

Obituary

MRS. JEE GAM

Mrs. Jee Gam, wife of the late Reverend Jee Gam, the first Chinese to be ordained in the United States, passed away at Tientsin after a prolonged illness, on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 25th, says the North China Star.

Mrs. Jee returned from the United States some years ago, after a residence of thirty odd years in America, where the late Rev. Jee Gam ministered among his countrymen and lectured throughout the country.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon, the 30th, at 1:30 o'clock at the Wesley Church, Rue Depasse, French Concession. Mrs. Jee is survived by one daughter and five sons; Mrs. Raymond Shih, wife of the Mechanical Engineer on the Chinese Eastern Railway; Dr. Pond M. Jee, Medical Officer to the Peking-Mukden Railway; M. Luther M. Jee of the Chinese American Bank of Commerce; Dr S. Henchaw Jee, Manager of the Eagle Drug Co., Shanghai; Mr. S. Berton Jee, Manager of the Tientsin Optical Co.; and Mr. S. Howard Jee, now studying at the University of Michigan, U. S. A.

Yunnan, Kweichow May Join North

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Oct. 26.—Two important representatives passed through Hankow yesterday for Loyang, one from Governor Tang Chi-yao of Yunnan and the other from Governor Yuan Cho-ming of Kweichow, representing these southwestern provinces which have hitherto held aloof from North China politics and remained independent of the Peking government. Mr. Huang Yao-chen of Yunnan and Mr. Liu Chih-ming of Kweichow will confer with general Wu Pei-fu with regards to the possibility of coming to agreeable terms whereby Yunnan and Kweichow will end their independent stand and resume loyalty to Peking.

The official report from government sources in Wuchang has it that General Wu Pei-fu is quietly working on his unification scheme and is attempting to unite all provinces on the Yangtsze from Yunnan to Kiangsu. In his telegram to commanders in Yunnan and Kweichow, General Wu urges that now that the Canton government with which they were affiliated for the constitutional cause has already been dissolved, and meanwhile the Peking government is getting into the proper constitutional channel all southwestern provinces should wake up to the folly of standing for no cause and denying Peking the loyalty due.

Figures Show Good Effect Of Dry Law

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Oct. 28.—A decision of the United States Federal Court states that no American ship will be able to transport fermented liquor to any part of the world.

According to the Chicago Tribune police reports from 50 of the most important towns of the United States prove that murderous drunkenness has considerably decreased since the coming into force of prohibition. The figures show that 125 prohibition agents have been killed and 3,500 wounded during that period.

There were 343,660 arrests for drunkenness and disorderliness on the public way in 1921 as against 252,206 in 1920. Imprisonments for all crimes during the same period increased from 1,238,940 to 1,464,296.

American Traders Propose Conference

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Oct. 28.—A feature of the speeches at the Convention of the American Manufacturers Export Association was the emphasis placed on the statement that the United States develop ment of greater demand for its products in North America as Asia was not alone sufficient to restore prosperity because the countries are unable to buy from America so long as Europe is not able to buy their products.

The Convention passed a resolution recommending the United States Chamber of Commerce to call an international conference of businessmen to discuss the inter-Allied debt problem and to publish their conclusions.

OPPOSE LOAN

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Oct. 27.—Representatives of the Canton Higher Normal School, the Lung Nan University and 30 other schools here have passed a resolution, announcing their opposition to the proposed loan and expressing lack of confidence in the Provincial Assembly of Kuangtung.

The anti-loan movement is gradually expanding, and in consequence, the authorities are maintaining strict control.
